FATE OF FRANCE NOW HANGS ON BATTLE

Davie Sleuths Shadow Chief

PETERSEN'S RECORD IS PROBED

Evidence to Substantiate Charges Sought by Investigators

Vollmer Refuses to Appear as Witness in Matter

Private detectives employed, it is believed, in behalf of the new city administration, have been engaged for the last ten days in attempts to ferret out evidence against Chief of Police Petersen in connection with gambling, both Chinese and American lotteries and other alleged protected vice in Oakland. It is understood that the purpose of having the men investigate the Chief's record and the record of the Oakland police department is that of laying a basis for bringing charges for the removal of Petersen from office.

This activity of the detectives indicate that there may not be a unanimity of opinion on the part of the members of the new administration as to what should be done with Chief Petersen. It would require only three votes to oust Petersen from the position of chief summarily, but it seems apparent that an attempt is being made to gain evidence that can be laid before Dr. F. F. Jackson, who is to be head of the department of Public Health and Safety, or W. H. Edwards, the other commissioner-elect, as a means of obtaining their concurrence to the plan.

A CAMPAIGN ISSUE. Mayor-elect John L. Davie based much of his political propaganda upon an attack upon the police chief and his administration of the local department. Neither Dr. Jackson nor Edwards personally attacked Petersen and there is some question as to whether they favor his immediate and summary removal from office.

The private detectives have been visiting the Chinese lottery houses in Oakland, the clubs in which there is poker playing and cigar stores and barber shops in which it is alleged that American lottery tickets are sold. They also made a visit to Berkeley, where they questioned Chief of Police August Vollmer and other members of the Berkeley department as to what they knew concerning Petersen and the Oakland department. Vollmer was asked if he would be willing to give testimony as to his knowledge of conditions in Oakland. He declared that he had nothing to make known.

CHIEF NOT UNAWARE. The activities of the private detectives became known to Chief Petersen several days ago. Numerous reports came to him through his own desk concerning the attempt to obtain some evidence that would reflect upon him and the Oakland department. The detectives who have been at work, when questioned, refused to state by whom they were employed, and gave evasive answers to the direct question as to whether they were connected with the Committee of One Hundred which has backed Mayor-elect John L. Davie.

It is known, however, that a personal representative of Mayor-elect Davie visited Vollmer in Berkeley and questioned him concerning Petersen.

Davie Administration Battles Over Choice of New City Attorney

The appointment of a city attorney to succeed City Attorney Ben F. Woolner is causing the new administration great difficulty. Commissioners-elect W. H. Edwards and F. F. Jackson are ready to vote for Judge A. L. Frick for the place, but so far Mayor-elect John L. Davie has opposed this course.

Numerous important suits are still under way in the courts, and it is realized that the selection of an attorney who can stingingly represent the city is of the utmost importance.

Janitor to Hang for Girl's Murder

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The State Supreme Court today affirmed the decision of the trial court at Sacramento which sentenced David Fountain to hang for the murder of Margaret Milling at Sacramento last September.

LANSING TO BE SECRETARY? President Says Nothing Yet of His Intention

ROBERT LANSING, whose appointment as Secretary of State to succeed Bryan, seems certain.

MILITIAMEN GUARD LIFE OF SLATON

ATLANTA, Ga., June 22.—Two battalions of Georgia militia and the Governor's Horse Guard troops, under the personal command of Adjutant General Nash, today were patrolling the country estate of Governor Slaton near here. The troops had been called out after a crowd of several hundred men and boys had marched there late last night and made a demonstration in protest against the commutation of Leo M. Frank's death sentence to life imprisonment.

The crowd was quickly dispersed by the soldiers after the governor had declared the zone within half a mile of his home under martial law. When first ordered to leave, some of the demonstrators called to the soldiers to "shoot," accompanying their retort with a desultory bombardment of the troops with missiles. Two officers and a private were slightly hurt. No shots were fired, the soldiers advancing with fixed bayonets. No civilians were injured.

Appearance of the crowd followed the appearance of the governor at the center of the city. At first only a few score started for the Slaton estate, but the number increased as the march of four miles continued.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Thoughtful rumors persist that Robert Lansing, appointed Secretary of State ad interim after the resignation of Secretary William Jennings Bryan, will be named to the cabinet position Bryan vacated, no confirmation at the White House can be secured today. Many high officials are inclined to credit the rumor and to believe that President Wilson has actually decided to appoint Lansing to the place.

It was said today in well informed quarters that while the President had not finally made up his mind, it was almost a certainty that Lansing would be given the portfolio.

Lansing was at the White House during the day and had a long talk with Secretary Tumulty. He would not discuss his visit.

The cabinet was in session today less than an hour. Neither the Mexican nor European situation was touched. President Wilson did not bring up the subject of appointing a Secretary of State.

Indictments Against Lynch Are Put Over

The four indictments, charging George F. Lynch, chauffeur for Supervisor Joseph M. Keller, with aiding in the procuring of illegal votes at the August, 1914, primary election, were put over for four weeks, to be set by Judge J. J. Trabucco, this morning. In the meantime, District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes will continue his investigation into the case, and may cause a charge of illegal voting to be lodged against Lynch.

Hynes announced today that he will discontinue the four indictments against Lynch. Although he was tried on but one of them, the four practically constitute but one charge.

If two juries were unable to convict Lynch on this charge, I don't see how a third would do so," Hynes said this morning. "Between now and the time that the case comes up again I will investigate every angle of the case. I want to learn what became of the voting posters in precincts 38, 39, and 44, the three precincts in which Lynch was registered on the day of election. I also want to find out if it is true that Lynch lived in precinct 34 on the day of the primary election, and that he voted in precinct 38. If such is the case, a charge of illegal voting will be placed against him, and he will be brought to trial for that offense."

LOVE BALM HEARING HALTED

Denied Money From Berkeley Hatter for Failure to Wed

Judge Rector Stops Case in the Midst of Testimony

Leta Gilliam, a pretty Berkeley saleswoman, was unable to impress Judge E. N. Rector today, as he stopped the hearing of her breach of promise suit in which she sought $15,000 heart balm from Louis J. Mund, a business man of the College City, and rendered a verdict for the defendant. The decision came as a surprise to all concerned, being made in the midst of testimony being offered by Mund.

Miss Gilliam caused a ripple of merriment in the court room when she testified, in answer to a question of Judge Rector, that she believed that she believed Mund's haberdashery business and bank account to be worth just about $15,000, the amount which she sought as heart balm.

Miss Gilliam further testified that since 1910, when she became engaged to Mund in St. Joseph, Mo., for the first time, her fiancé had made her an annual Christmas present of a year's postponement of their wedding date.

READY FIVE TIMES TO WED. "I got ready to be married on five different occasions," the pretty witness testified. "But every time this was always about Christmas time—he would postpone the wedding for another year. The only reason that he gave me for his actions was that he didn't want to live in Berkeley after he was married."

On January 15 of this year, said Miss Gilliam, Mund gave her a check for $12.50 as payment for groceries which she had purchased with which to feed him. On the following day, she said, Mund stopped payment on the check, although he had brought her flowers and candy the day before and taken her to the theater. It was then that she consulted an attorney and started her suit.

Much argument was indulged in between Judge W. O. Minor, Mund's attorney, Judge Edgar and Miss Gilliam over the question of a diamond ring which the latter said Mund had promised her.

"Last Christmas he brought me a teeny little ring, and I refused it. He promised to buy me a big one, but I haven't seen it yet," the pretty witness sniffed and looked haughtily at her erstwhile fiancé. "Then, last Sunday, two days ago, mind you, he followed me home and took me in his arms and loved me, and wanted me to call off the suit, and he said he would marry me. Well, I've tried of his promises and told him I'd have nothing more to do with him."

Judge Minor tried to make the witness admit that the engagement between the two was an elastic one, in that Mund was not to marry until financial and all other conditions should be on a proper footing. Miss Gilliam would not admit this, however.

When Miss Gilliam left the stand Mund went on in his own behalf. He hadn't been on five minutes before Rector halted the proceedings and rendered his decision.

Broker Pleads Not Guilty of Abduction

Joseph S. Myers, a wealthy realty broker, accused by Miss Agnes Bendegard, a young Oakland artist, with having kidnapped five-year-old Gerald Warner, said to be the son of herself and Myers, pleaded not guilty to the charge before Judge Trabucco this morning. His trial will begin July 20.

Myers, who is crippled from the waist down, was wheeled into court by an attendant to make his plea. He answered the questions of Court Clerk Louis Rudolph in barely audible tones.

Myers is alleged by Miss Bendegard to have kidnapped the child in order to get it out of the way as a possible witness against him as the father. Myers, Miss Bendegard alleges, was known to her as Warner. The realty man denies the parentage of the boy, and disclaims knowledge of his present whereabouts. The boy is still missing.

VOTE FRAUD NET GETS TAGGART

100 Prominent Men Are Indicted by Indianapolis Grand Jury

The Convicted Mayor of Terre Haute Implicated in Charges

By Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 22.—Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman for Indiana; Mayor Joseph E. Bell, Chief of Police Samuel V. Perrott and 122 others were indicted by the Marion county grand jury here, charged with conspiracy to commit a felony through violation of election laws, bribery and blackmail. Taggart and Bell were the first to acknowledge service in the case. Taggart was released on $5000 bond and Bell on $10,000.

More than a dozen members of Mayor Bell's official family were indicted and as many more members of the police force were named. The others indicted include election officials, ward and precinct leaders, workers at the polls and voters. The indictment is in forty-eight counts.

Many of the indicted men appeared at the office of Sheriff George V. Coffin this afternoon and gave bond. Among those who appeared were Chief of Police Perrott and Robert Metzger, who each gave bonds in the sum of $10,000.

ONE TRUE BILL. All the men—Democrats, Republicans and Progressives—are named in a single item which contains forty-eight counts. The main charge is conspiracy to commit felonies by corrupting the election, by violation of the primary law, the registration laws and by bribery and blackmail.

Included among those indicted are said to be a number of primary, registration and election officials. The indictment charges certain of these officials with conspiracy to permit persons to register falsely and to vote falsely in the primary, and in the election. Another count charges persons with repeating.

Repeaters were imported from outside of the county for use in the election. It is asserted in the indictment. Several counts charge election officials with failing to do their duty in connection with having the voting

POLICE SCORE WOMAN WHO BARRED DAUGHTER'S WEDDING

ALAMEDA, June 22.—The Alameda police have a new record as first aid experts to Cupid. An angry mother, seeking to stop her daughter's wedding, was lectured at the police station and threatened with arrest while wedding plans went on undisturbed, and today Mrs. Ella Oldham is back at her home in Livermore, while her daughter, who became of age Sunday, is Mrs. J. O. Weiss.

The mother, who sought the girl before her marriage, ordering her back to Livermore, was taken to the police station on a charge of disturbing the peace, preferred by friends of the girl. The charge, however, was not pressed. She was not locked up.

Mrs. Oldham, hearing of the intended wedding, hurried to the home of friends, where her daughter was visiting, demanding that the girl accompany her home. She was arrested on complaint of owners of the premises and hurried to the police station on a charge of disturbing the peace.

She was not locked up, however, the police hearing her story, warning her, and releasing her. The wedding ceremony was performed yesterday by Rev. Carl Bauer of the Emmanuel Lutheran church. Mrs. Oldham refused to attend the ceremony, but did not interfere.

THAW CONFIDENT; PLANS P. P. I. E. VISIT

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 22.—Fifty witnesses summoned in behalf of Harry K. Thaw in his effort to prove that he is now sane and entitled to be set free from the Matteawan Asylum, were ready to testify in his sanity trial today before Supreme Justice Hendrick and a jury. This was Thaw's fourth attempt to obtain his freedom by means of habeas corpus, but was the first instance in which his plea was heard by a jury. Justice Hendrick, however, pointed out that the jury was an advisory and not a trial jury. "If they come to one conclusion while I reach another, I shall not be bound by their findings," he added.

Thaw was so confident of success that he was planning to attend the Panama-Pacific Exposition after the trial. It was stated that Thaw's counsel will object to a lengthy questioning of their client concerning the murder of Stanford White. They contend that Thaw's mentality is the only question to be decided.

Thaw arrived in court early, and was accompanied by his mother and sister, Mrs. George Carnegie. When the examination of witnesses began, David Robinson, a broker, the first man questioned, was quickly accepted as the first juror.

LIBAU FORTIFIED BY CONQUERORS; CZAR MUST QUIT LEMBERG

By Associated Press. BERLIN, June 22.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—Announcement made today by the Overseas News Agency says that the Russians before Lemberg have been defeated along their whole line and are fighting only to gain time in order to save their artillery and other war material.

"The Germans and Austrians are within ten miles of Lemberg," the announcement adds. "The main positions of the Russians are shelled by the armies of Generals Mackensen, Linsingen, Boehm-Ermoli, Pflanzner and Woytze."

FEARFUL LOSSES AT ARRAS

By Associated Press. LONDON, June 22.—Wireless dispatches from Berlin represent the battle which has been in progress for some time in the vicinity of Arras, Northern France, as one of the great conflicts of the war, which may decide the fate of France. Losses of both the Germans and the allies are described as fearful, and one stretch of the field from Arras, eight miles toward the Belgian border, is said to be covered with corpses. The official French and German statements of today give few details of this battle. The Overseas News Agency in Berlin today gave out the following:

"Reports from Dutch sources state that the French losses are fearful. The hospitals at Amiens and Abbeville are overcrowded. The constant arrival of trains with wounded adds to the confusion and it is impossible to give the usual care to the wounded."

RUSSIAN PLIGHT IS HOPELESS

By Associated Press. LONDON, June 22, 12:06 p. m.—Nothing but a sudden and unexpected blow by Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces in the field, can now save Lemberg, in the hands of the Russians for nearly ten months, from returning to its former owners. The almost immediate evacuation of the city by the Russians is expected in London.

No Secret Offers of War Mediation Made

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Wilson revealed today that all the offers of mediation in Europe which the United States had made publicly or semi-publicly have been disclosed, and that at present no other offers are being made. Foreign governments generally, he said, were aware of the desire of the United States to do everything possible to assist in bringing peace.

After yielding on the Grodek line, the Russian armies retired to virtually the outskirts of the city of Lemberg itself. The Austrian official announcement on hostilities speaks of the Russians as attacking at many points, but these fights are assumed in London to be merely incidents of the rearward actions to enable the main forces to withdraw. In the opinion of British observers, this retreating has been up to the present a well-executed movement. Dispatches reaching London say the armies of Emperor Nicholas are virtually intact and that their ability to resume the initiative once the ranks have been refilled and their ammunition replenished has not been greatly impaired.

ALLIES PUT AT LOSS. This interval, however, it is argued here, will give the German allies opportunity to reap the fruits of the victories in Galicia. They will be able to withstand assaults from the east with much smaller forces than were required successfully to attack and large masses of men will be released. Successes of the allies on the western front suggest a considerable access of German strength may be a development in this field, while released Austrian forces will be used to stem the advance of the Italians.

On the other hand, the Germans in now Rumania and Poland are busily consolidating their gains in a manner which suggests more important movements in these regions. The support of Libau is strongly fortified. Heavy naval guns have been installed and Prince Henry of Prussia, commander-in-chief of the Baltic fleet, is credited with the statement that the Germans intend to retain possession of Libau at all costs, as they regard this port to be the key to the Baltic.

AUSTRIAN FORTS CAPTURED

By Associated Press. GENEVA, June 21, via Paris, June 22, 5:10 a. m.—The Tribune prints the following dispatch from Laidbach: "The Italians on the night of the 19th gained ground 12 miles north of Gorizia, while southeast of Pavia they captured two forts and several trenches, in which were found two machine guns. "Along the Isonto, the artillery duel seems to have turned to the advantage of the Italians, and the Austrians are beginning to bring up heavy guns from the eastern front. "A council of war was held at Laidbach on the evening of the 19th. Archduke Eugen, commander-in-chief of the Austrian forces operating in Italy, is expected to arrive on the Gorizia-Trieste front on the 24th."

FLEET TO ATTACK STRAITS

By Associated Press. LONDON, June 22, 5:10 a. m.—Although operations on the Gallipoli Peninsula have assumed the aspect of siege warfare, local attacks and counter attacks continue, says a Havas dispatch from Athens. Monday fighting was particularly intense, but Wednesday the allies repulsed a Turkish attack. The allied trenches at the southern extremity of the peninsula, the dispatch

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Automobile bandits drove into Ceres at an early hour this morning dynamited the postoffice safe, obtaining $2200 worth of stamps, $350 in coin and succeeded in escaping in the direction of Modesto. A sheriff and posse is on their trail.

VILLA FORCE TO PROTECT AMERICANS

Conference on Yaqui Situation Held on Board U. S. S. Colorado.

By Associated Press. TULSA, Okla., June 22.—Robert C. Allen, an American mining engineer, was killed by Mexicans at Monterey, according to a telegram received here today by his brother, J. L. Allen, from officials of Monterey. No details were given.

ABOARD U. S. S. "COLORADO," Off Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico, June 21.—Fifteen hundred Villa troops under General Zúñiga were promised as a reward for the capture of the Yaqui chief, General Leizaola, by the American army. The Yaqui chief, General Leizaola, was captured by the American army on June 21. The Yaqui chief, General Leizaola, was captured by the American army on June 21.

Under the auspices of the flag ship, General Leizaola, was captured by the American army on June 21. The Yaqui chief, General Leizaola, was captured by the American army on June 21.

To the Americans General Leizaola promised the same protection as that which would be afforded Mexicans, and said further that in case of imminent danger an adequate guard would be sent them to a place of safety.

Serious complications, he said, might follow the landing of an American force, because such an act might not be understood by the people at large in its true light. He charged that the Yaqui were buying their ammunition in the United States.

OPPOSES CONFERENCE. General Leizaola discounted any possibility of a conference with Yaqui chiefs. They never permit foreign emissaries in their presence, he declared, and besides, he said, the Yaqui are blood-thirsty and the Americans are not.

The Mexicans thus far killed he described as having been horribly mutilated, and he said that crops just harvested had been carried away by the Indians as provisions for future raids.

Land communists with the border, General Leizaola said, would soon be lost because the railroad was inoperative during the period of heavy rains.

Information thus far received indicates that about 75 men remain of the normal American settlement of 300 around Esperanza, 90 miles southeast of Guaymas. About 5000 acres are still under cultivation, as against a normal cultivated acreage of 30,000.

American holdings in the Yaqui valley amount to 500,000 acres, mostly in the name of the Richardson Construction Co., a West Coast corporation, whose bonds are held by the Americans, Harry Payne Whitney and John Hays Hammond, both of New York, are said to be the principal bondholders.

Mexicans in the valley now are concentrated in a few towns and are afraid to operate against the Yaqui. A large band of Yaqui appeared 12 miles from the Southern Pacific Railroad's Mexico shops at Empalme last night, but were not in sight today.

The attack on a Southern Pacific work train near here reported yesterday, was made from fortifications which the Indians built in a brick yard.

SLEUTHS 'SHADOW' CHIEF PETERSEN

Davie Cohorts Seek Evidence to Sustain Campaign Charges.

The shadow of the sleuths was cast over the city of San Francisco yesterday. The chief of the city police, Mr. Peteresen, was being followed by a large number of men, who were believed to be members of the "Davie" cohorts. The men were seen in various parts of the city, and were believed to be seeking evidence to sustain the charges against Mr. Peteresen.

It is understood that Mr. R. M. Higgins, whose son is being considered for the position of health officer of the city, is being followed by a large number of men, who are believed to be members of the "Davie" cohorts. The men were seen in various parts of the city, and were believed to be seeking evidence to sustain the charges against Mr. Higgins.

Reappoints Members of Municipal Board

Mayor Frank R. Mott announced today the reappointment of three members of the municipal board. He has four appointments yet to make before he leaves office, the chief of these being that of a successor to President of the Civil Service Commission Harrison S. Robinson. The appointments announced today and confirmed by the city council were as follows: Woodward Commission—Mrs. Frances B. Lemon, for six years, commencing January 8, 1914, when her former term expired, and A. E. Caldwell, for six years, commencing January 8, 1915.

Playground Commission—Mrs. Ella M. Vandegrift, for six years, commencing July 1, 1915, when her appointment expires.

Appropriation Passed for New Accounting

The city council today gave final passage to the ordinance appropriating $1000 for the employment of experts during the coming fiscal year in the installation of a new accounting system in the city. Only so much of this amount as may be necessary will be expended. The committee of one hundred filed a protest against the passage of this ordinance.

Seattle Pays High Tribute to Wilson

By Associated Press. SEATTLE, June 22.—"Wilson day," designed to demonstrate popular approval of the President's course in handling the country's international affairs, was observed today with a grand parade and mass meeting. The parade, which was more than two miles long, was led by the regimental band and two companies of the Fourteenth United States Infantry and a company of bluejackets from the armored cruiser South Dakota, flagship of Rear Admiral Charles F. Bond, commander of the Pacific reserve fleet. The South Dakota, which came from the Puget Sound Navy Yard to participate in the celebration, fired a Presidential salute of 21 guns as the parade started.

TROOPS GUARDING GEORGIA GOVERNOR

Measures Taken to Safeguard Life of Leo Frank From Mobbs.

Measures taken to safeguard the life of Leo Frank, the Georgia governor, were continued today. The governor is being guarded by a large number of troops, who are believed to be members of the "Davie" cohorts. The troops were seen in various parts of the city, and were believed to be seeking evidence to sustain the charges against Mr. Frank.

While the militia was still on guard at Governor Slaton's country home, quiet prevailed both there and in the city today, and there was no indication of a further outbreak of violence.

At the governor's home it was said that the militia probably would be withdrawn tonight.

State and city officials insisted that last night's demonstration probably had ended the possibility of menace to the governor by the people most bitterly opposed to the commutation of Frank's sentence.

A state of preparedness was maintained in the city and the military authorities. There appeared no further evidence of the gathering of a crowd in the vicinity of Governor Slaton's suburban home.

The Frank case still was discussed in the streets, but the groups were those ordinarily seen on the busiest corners. Today's calm apparently was welcomed by the majority of Atlanta residents. Local newspapers gave very little space to the case today.

TWENTY-FOUR ARRESTED.

A summary of the arrests made yesterday in the city and last night in the neighborhood of the Slaton home showed a total of 24 persons taken into custody. They were mostly young men, some without occupation, while some said they were clerks. All were held on a charge of failing to "move on" when directed to do so by the police.

So far as could be learned, no arrangements had been made for an organized protest against the governor's action. The impromptu mass meeting at the capitol yesterday, when resolutions were passed condemning Governor Slaton, seemed to appease the wrath of those immediately concerned.

The rush on Governor Slaton's home last night was the result of an impulsive suggestion on the part of the state speakers that the crowd "pay the governor a call."

At three different points along the route to the governor's home city and county police tried to halt the procession, but the body, which reached the estate shortly before midnight, there found additional police. The governor declared martial law within a zone of one-half mile of his home and ordered out several companies of militia.

No effort was made by any one to enter the governor's grounds. Barbed wire entanglements had been stretched across the driveways and along the grounds just within the enclosing walls and fences.

The crowd appeared to be entirely leaderless and quick to switch from apparent anger to good humor. Missiles were hurled at the soldiers until some one started to sing "Did Not Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier." The crowd then broke up, and the soldiers and left with parting shouts of ridicule at the militiamen.

Word received from the prison farm at Milledgeville today was that Frank was not yet in physical condition to take part in active work.

Solicitor General Dorsey, who prosecuted Frank, issued a statement last night in which he declared the action of Governor Slaton nullifying the judgments of the state and federal courts and overriding the recommendations of the State Board of Pardons was unprecedented. He added that no defendant in his recollection had had the benefit of more appeals to both the state and federal courts.

It cannot find in the record of the Frank case in the governor's lengthy statement of attempted justification, one reason why the governor should interfere with the judgments of the courts in the case," said the solicitor.

Governor Slaton went to his office at the capitol today for the first time since last Saturday. A police officer rode in an automobile and walked with him to the entrance to the capitol. There was no demonstration. The governor remained at his office several hours.

OFFER BULGARIA REWARD

By Associated Press. BULGARIA, June 22.—Bulgaria's answer to the entente powers regarding her participation in the war is a more precise definition of the terms "Kavala and the hinterland." The proposal of the quadruple entente was that Bulgaria should mobilize immediately and move against Turkey.

The prospective compensation offered for such action included Serbian Macedonia, Kavala (a port of the Aegean Sea, in the extreme eastern part of Greece), with the Kavala hinterland and the district of Macedonia, and the Midia line in Turkey. The powers are said to have agreed to mediate at Bucharest for the restitution to Bulgaria of Dobruja (a district of Rumania bordering on the Black Sea), and also to support Bulgaria financially during the war. No inducements were offered for a continuance of Bulgarian neutrality.

The Bulgarian answer, it is said here, while courteous in tone, did not touch the question of the government's attitude regarding mobilization, but devoted itself to counter-questions. Bulgaria wished to know whether Serbia planned to include only that part which Bulgaria laid claim under the Balkan League treaty, or other parts as well.

The entente allies are reported to have proposed that Serbia, in return for the restoration of Macedonia, receive suitable compensation in Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, to which the future size of Serbia is important, in view of the necessity for maintaining the balance of power in the Balkans, requested more definite information concerning Serbian compensation, and for a similar reason wished to know what Greece would receive in Asia-Minor, as well as a more precise definition of the terms "Kavala and the hinterland."

Details regarding the proffered mediation in Bucharest also are said to have been asked, and it was pointed out that Bulgaria, because of its exhaustion after the two Balkan wars, could participate in a new war only if its prospective reward was made definite and guaranteed. The note of Bulgaria is regarded here as being a means taken to avoid an immediate answer.

NURSES OPPOSE MENIAL SERVICE

"Let Them Hire Maids," Is the Ultimatum Spoke at National Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The National League of Nursing Education, which met here today, closed its session with a vote of 100 to 0 in favor of the proposition that no nurse should be employed as a menial servant. The vote was taken after a long and heated discussion of the subject. The league's officers and members are opposed to the practice of employing nurses as domestic help, believing it to be a degradation of the nursing profession. They argue that nurses should be free to practice their profession and not be forced to perform menial tasks. The league's ultimatum is that if the practice continues, they will take further action to protect the dignity of the nursing profession.

AMERICAN BALLOONISTS SET NEW WORLD RECORD

A new world and a new American record were set by two aeronauts yesterday by Edward Unger, balloonist, and Clarence Drake, a youthful aeronaut. Drake set a new world record for long-distance parachute dropping, when he landed from a height of 14,200 feet. Unger made the record by flying over the Pacific coast, by going up a distance of 25,500 feet, or more than five miles from the earth.

The records were made in a flight from the Marina at the Exposition grounds, which ended when Unger's great bag was brought to earth near Pleasanton. The experienced carrying human ballast, and very little sand, is explained by Unger as responsible for his record-breaking flight. Thomas McLean, another young aeronaut, accompanied Drake and Unger, and made a parachute leap from a height of 9000 feet. As each man in the basket of the balloon, the great bag shot higher.

The world's altitude record is held by Berson and Suring, and was made in Berlin in 1901. They went to a height of 35,420 feet. Wayne Abbott held the previous world's record for a parachute drop, with 6800 feet.

ALLEGED ASSAULT OF LABORER IS SOUGHT

Frank Lucas, arrested several days ago for an alleged assault with a deadly weapon in May, 1914, failed to appear when his case was called today, and Judge George Samuels issued a bench warrant for his arrest as a defaulting defendant. His bondsmen, Osgood and Mello, were also notified that if Lucas is not brought into court when the case comes up again next Friday the bond of $2000 will probably be declared forfeited.

Lucas is alleged to have struck Pedro Lopez, a laborer for the Southern Pacific Company, over the head with a pick handle over a year ago. Lopez recovered after lingering for over a month between life and death. Lucas left Oakland after the trouble and was arrested when he returned a few days ago.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH ORDAINS REV. H. MILLER

The ordination of the Rev. Harvey Miller, a 1915 graduate of the Pacific Theological Seminary, took place yesterday evening at the Congregational church, where the Rev. H. Miller has been preaching for the last two years while completing his studies. The ceremony was conducted by the Council of Congregational churches which had met previously at 5 o'clock that afternoon.

At the evening service, which was witnessed by a large gathering, Rev. Albert W. Palmer preached an ordination sermon on "The Fine Art of Living." In this address he concentrated on the principle of high living as taught by the churches. The charge was given to the new pastor by Professor George T. Colson of the Seminary.

More than a dozen churches were represented at the meeting which lauded the young clergyman on his ministerial career.

NEWSIES' PARADE TO PRECEDE PARTY

Manager Cornell of Pantages to Make Address to Tribune Guests.

Program of Tribune Newsboys' party tonight... 8 p.m.—Assembly at Tribune building, Eighth and Franklin streets for line of march.

Tonight's the big night! Oakland's newsboys will be guests at one of the big theater parties of the year, when, at the Pantages, they will be entertained under the auspices of The Tribune, by courtesy of Manager Harry E. Cornell of the playhouse.

PARADE FIRST EVENT. Following the parade, a party of newsboys will parade to the theater from the Tribune office. With The Tribune drum corps of 40 boys, the parade will march up Broadway, then to the city hall, then down Washington street to Twelfth and to the theater.

At the theater they will meet Manager Cornell, who will address the guests of the evening briefly before the show begins. Several special acts have been designed as extra "Newsboy's Night" attractions.

Among the special features of the evening will be a newspaper-selling demonstration by Richard the Third, the trained monkey appearing on this week's bill, and special songs by Miss Winona Winter. Barnes and Robinson will introduce a number of "newsboy" specialties into their act, and a number of surprises in the way of other attractions have been planned by the newsboys' committee.

Manager Cornell, who is in general charge of the party, was in his youth a New York newsboy. Later becoming a messenger and finally a reporter on a New York daily. From this he entered the theatrical field. Street Circulator Wagner has suggested that he demonstrate his "paper selling voice" from the stage—but he says he's lost it through lack of practice. Several hundred newsboys will enjoy tonight's affair.

ALMA MATER REUNITES CROCKER AND KENT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Influence of the love of Alma Mater in getting warring factions together has rarely been more strikingly exemplified than in the case of William H. Crocker and Congressman William Kent. As every California politician knows, Crocker is close to the head of the standard-bearers, while Kent is a Progressive, the friend of Francis J. Heney, who was after Crocker at one time, and a special of what Crocker's friends would call a "rabble-rouser."

But both are sons of old El, and when they get together the other day Kent had a suggestion. "Let's give a Yale picnic over in Muir woods," said he. "All right," replied Crocker. "I'll pay half the cost if you pay the other half." "You're on," assented Kent promptly. "Go as far as you like."

So the Yale men that can be rounded up are to be invited to that picnic, and it is to be made an occasion that will be remembered for many years for lavish hospitality.

Byrne, assistant passenger traffic manager, that, in order to take care of the increased passenger business from California, during the month of July, he will put on extra trains to run through to Chicago and Kansas City via the Grand Canyon every Monday, Tuesday and Saturday. LAVISH PLANS FOR CELEBRATION

Details of Festival for Fourth Are Rapidly Taking Shape.

Permanent committees to arrange the Fourth of July celebration will be appointed at a meeting in the Metropolitan Exchange this evening. Progress made by the temporary committees in the arrangements will be reported. A. J. Jones, chairman of the general committee, will preside and Mayor-elect John L. Dwyer will be one of the speakers. The proposal to be definitely settled this evening provides for celebrating on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, July 4 and 5. The Native Sons' Hotel and Stripes' Hall will open the celebration on Saturday evening. There are including the raising of the flag on the tallest flagpole in Oakland, at the Oakland School, will be attended by thousands in Elmhurst Sunday on Monday there will be a parade through the downtown section, with sports and aquatic events on Lake Merritt, and a people's ball and fireworks in the evening.

Members of the various organizations attended a meeting of the Elmhurst Social and Improvement Club last evening, when further arrangements were made for the local end of the Fourth celebration. Mayor-elect Dwyer will raise the flag on the big pole, which will be carried by a little Elmhurst miss who will break a bottle of water on the staff. It was definitely decided to hold a relay race from Oakland to the Lockwood School. In view of the celebration being on Sunday, there was doubt as to whether land 596.—Advertisement.

WOULD SAVE POSTMAN STEPS "Too Many Miles Wasted," Declares Postmaster

Don't make him walk up your stairs! Don't make him walk across your yard! He does it several hundred times a day! He climbs miles of stairs, walks over miles of yards—and wastes hours of time. It is the plea of the Oakland Postmaster, J. H. Roscoe, who has been so efficient in his work that he has been promoted to the position of Postmaster General. He wants to economize on the time of his men and the public. He doesn't have your mail box on a porch more than ten feet high. Don't set it where a postman will have to walk a mile to get to it. A walk up or down stairs means getting to the householder who does it once, declares the postmaster. But it means miles and hours to the postman. He climbs one set after another and walks from street to street. "The manual laborer, as the law of the land is a fruitful. We are saving the householders to cooperate with us."

SLAYER OF HOG IS GIVEN FREEDOM

CHICO, June 22.—William Fieldman of Cherokee, arrested last week for shooting a hog belonging to Mrs. Elsie Johnson on Monday, was released from the county jail yesterday on depositing a cash bond of $25. Fieldman killed the hog because it carried fleas into his house, killed his chickens and uprooted his chicken house, he declared. He intended to annihilate several more of the hogs, but was prevented in carrying out his campaign of destruction by his wife.

THE GOVERNOR AND CIVIL SERVICE.

Governor Johnson proved himself a genuine friend in need to honest civil service when he refused to sign the Gerdes bill, a measure inspired by certain members of the Board of Control for the purpose of emasculating and virtually destroying the civil service law of California. The bill which Governor Johnson very properly refused to sign was designed to make the Civil Service Commission inefficient and to prevent the establishment of a workable civil service system in this state. The Gerdes bill exempted the State Board of Control from the operation of the civil service law and prohibited the Civil Service Commission from investigating the conduct of state officers. It also forbade keeping the efficiency records of state employees. Perhaps its worst feature was the provision which authorized state officials to remove employees without stating reasons and without giving the discharged employee an opportunity to be heard.

The bill was a sinister and treacherous one and if it had become a law the merit system, as applied to state officials, would have been converted into a thoroughgoing farce. No person who honestly desires to see the merit system solidly established in this state and justly and efficiently administered could look with favor upon this reactionary attempt to smash the existing civil service legislation. The fact that the Gerdes law was instigated and introduced at the suggestion of officials connected with one of the state's most important commissions indicates that there is a great deal of mean hypocrisy on the part of some of the Progressive brethren who are enjoying official positions. Governor Johnson has very properly rebuked these selfish commissioners with the swollen heads and told them with sufficient plainness that if they choose to make fools of themselves, they are not to enjoy the privilege of trying to perform the same function for him.

ADVICE MINUS PROTECTION.

The presence in this country of the delegates to the Pan-American financial congress and of the Chinese Trade Commission has been considered sufficient reason for President Wilson and the other spokesmen of the present administration—Secretary McAdoo and the former Secretary of State—to offer much advice and many suggestions looking to the increase of our foreign trade. After the usual pro-forma compliments and felicitations, which it so happened neither of the foreign delegations came to hear at this time, Messrs. McAdoo and Bryan have proceeded to explain that the American producer and exporter could take a variety of means to build up the volume of his foreign business and strengthen the trade ties between this country and South America and between this country and the Orient.

The attitude of the administration officials is conspicuously marked by the attention given to externals, and to inconsequential details and by the complete ignoring of the essentials. They have recited the old stereotyped tirade against our business methods, originated decades ago by alleged trade experts who knew of no other way to excuse their presence in office. A detailed investigation into the needs of our prospective customers; a trained corps of refined, Spanish speaking salesmen; long credits and careful packing; extension of banking facilities and more steamships, make up the burden of their tale.

But there is not a word about the administration foreign policy. No suggestion is made that if Americans establish their interests in foreign lands they will be guaranteed adequate protection.

This is the essential thing for American foreign trade expansion. All administration advice not based on this assurance is worthless, unreasonable and superfluous. The lack of government assistance and support has been the one big obstacle to American business men seeking foreign markets. Given the assurance that they will be as amply protected in all proper activities as the nationals of other governments who may be their competitors, our merchants will work the details and mechanics of conducting their trade. We do not fear the result.

Mexico was surely the first foreign neighbor to whom we should have turned to begin the development of foreign trade. All the geographic, sociologic, economic and other natural conditions demanded that in common sense Mexico be among the first trade fields to be exploited. Yielding to these natural attractions American interests in Mexico rose to hundreds of millions of dollars in value.

Yet when internecine strife assailed these interests not a finger was lifted for their protection. They have been sacrificed when a governmental policy, equally as economical and as safe as the one that prevails at present, might have saved them. The administration in fact has repudiated these interests—with a finesse that distinguishes between the lives of humanity and the life of humanity. A similar thing happened in China when Messrs. Wilson and Bryan withdrew the simple diplomatic aid that a former administration had pledged to American interests striving to obtain a foothold in the financial and business life of the Far East.

Messrs. Wilson, McAdoo and their colleagues should bear in mind that they have the power and the facilities to aid the foreign trade of the country in a more material way than giving advice to the foreman of the packing department of a factory.

Assurances that they conceive it to be their plain duty to support and protect American business interests abroad would go far to eliminate the ills of which they complain.

WISE ACTION.

The Supervisors did a wise and proper thing yesterday when they voted to separate the County Poorhouse and the County Hospital. No more inconvenient arrangement than the present one could within reason be conceived. The County Hospital is twelve miles from the center of population in Oakland and seventeen miles from Berkeley. Ninety-five per cent of the people who have thought about the matter and whose opinion is worth considering have long been in favor of building a County Hospital within easy reach of the City Hall. The best judgment of experts in modern sanitary and hospital work is heartily in favor of the separation of almshouses and municipal or county hospitals.

We trust an advantageous site will be found. There are many excellent locations within a mile or two of the center of population which would make suitable hospital sites and there ought to be no difficulty and no protracted discussion about the selecting of one.

Of equal importance with the prompt choosing of an advantageous site for the new County Hospital is the selection of a suitable design for the building. A high mark of impressive architecture has been set in this community by the erection of the City Hall, the Oakland Hotel and the Civic Auditorium. If the county is to build a new hospital in this general vicinity an edifice should be erected which, in its way and in view of the uses for which it is designed, should be as much of a credit to the city as the three admirable buildings which we have just mentioned.

THE NURSES' CONVENTION.

The 600 trained nurses from all sections of the United States who are assembled here this week have a striking background for their annual convention now being held. It is debatable whether there is another expression of civilization so eloquent and convincing as the development of nursing and medical science. Stretching our imagination a bit we see a world panorama that is made up of many paradoxes. Eleven nations are at war and ten of them are marked on the geographies as civilized nations. Their populations are being decimated, the people maimed and mangled. The products and signs of civilization are being blotted out and all peaceful "civilized" sentiments are being subordinated to that of destruction.

Yet the most beneficent product of civilization, one that had its origin in war and still finds its traditional and heaviest work in the wake of armies on destruction bent, raises its head for a while in California, the land of peace, to survey its position and discuss methods and means of promoting further its effectiveness. The deliberations of the nurses are being held in the Exposition grounds, the greatest monument to peaceful industry the world has yet known, a monument erected to commemorate the world's greatest peaceful achievement.

The nurses may look back over a notable history. When the battle of Waterloo was fought one hundred years ago the possibilities of the nurse was not known. Since then the Florence Nightingales and the Clara Bartons have won recognition for their profession. Today many as noble and self-sacrificing women are bending over the suffering of Europe and Asia. It will be totally unexpected if any one of the workers in the present war rises heroic above her sister nurses. The work is too monumental and heart-breaking for individuals to perform—it must be done in community units operating under a big system.

This is the modern way, but while it subjects individuality to the accomplishment of bigger and better results it need not cause us to forget the gentle, patient heroism of the work, though we may not come to know the performers personally. A similar thought should prevail against our forgetting the work of the nurse in time of peace, how she has braved the yellow and white and black plagues to cool a fevered brow or a parched tongue; how she has been the hands of the doctors in Panama, South America, China, India, Africa and the Philippines in stamping out deadly tropical diseases; that she is our guarantee that never again, as in the fourteenth century, can half the world be taken by plague.

DO AIR RAIDS PAY?

Each day we become more convinced that the provisions of Article 25 of the Hague Convention of 1907, forbidding the attack or bombardment of any undefended towns, villages or other habitations, are wise and humane in their effect; and that reasons for any nation not pledging itself to hold them inviolable have vanished. The returns from air attacks, either in physical punishment inflicted or the moral effect created, is not commensurate to the risk, cost and distressing effect that is absolutely profitless.

Both sides in the European war are now resorting to air raids on defenseless and undefended towns and each accuses the other of starting the practice, but why persist in it when it is little more than savagery? The sufferers from air attacks so far have been, for the most part, women and children. A few buildings have been destroyed and damaged, but they are susceptible of repair within a few days; the roof of a railway station or an ammunition depot may be restored or dispensed with without noticeable loss of efficiency to the great military machines possessed by the belligerent powers. Up to the present time the dirigible and the aeroplane have failed utterly as a destructive instrument against the enemy, so far as the enemies military power is concerned. A great fleet of Zeppelins visits the English coast and kills sixteen persons; forty aeroplanes descend on Karlsruhe and kill and wound 200. Yet what does this amount to in a war in which 6,000,000 men are engaged on one battle line. The people of the raided cities may be scared, even terror-stricken, but they do not desert their city, their country or their cause. On the contrary they become more bitter enemies, more resourceful, and better prepare themselves to meet any subsequent land attacks.

As acts of retaliation the air raids are a failure because in the very nature of things they multiply the ineffectual damage and incite acts of counter retaliation.

The biggest sufferers are those that the common laws of decency and humanity and the fundamental standards of personal honor demand that we avoid injuring—women and children.

As a scout and information gatherer the aeroplane has come to stay and is indispensable in modern warfare. But for any other purpose it does not seem worth while; it does not pay for itself. The combatants of the present have gone far enough to realize this and to act accordingly and at once, without waiting for some future convention to point the way. So long as a belligerent adheres to the practice of raiding undefended towns he trifles with the time of neutrals when he protests against his enemy doing the same thing.

W. J. Bryan recently showed how quickly he could get back into his old-time talking form. For weeks prior to his resignation he had scarcely been heard from. On June 8th he handed in his note of resignation of 300 words; on the same day his talks to reporters amounted to 1800 words. Up to the 16th he produced his explanation of resignation 1000 words; appeal to the American people, 1050 words; statement to German-Americans, 2350 words; on changes in President's note, 1500 words; statement on "The Causeless War," 3000 words. If by any ill fortune our relations with a foreign power should become more critical it may be necessary to put a censor over the ex-secretary. It would be an elaboration of that theory under which a censorship of the wireless and cable service is maintained.

THE LUSITANIA INCIDENT.

To the Editor: Mr. Irish would tell us how we would act if we were fighting across of four men, and his very life and the welfare of his family depended on the outcome of that fight. If in addition, bystanders were handing his opponents weapons of various sorts, to help them make a good job of it, I wonder what he would do. I fear that he would forget ever that he was ever written and just waste in that light any old way to win.

The sinking of the Lusitania was a terrible thing, but every man and woman that took passage on the vessel did so knowing that the Germans would sink her if they could. The "news" told that she had a big cargo of ammunition. If the truth is ever known, it will be found that it was the ammunition, exploded by the torpedo, that caused the ship to sink so quickly. We can not very well expect Germany to give up her only effective weapon on sea just because our people have a mania for traveling or because England is crying out against it. As to the W. P. Frye, this ship certainly carried contraband, as it was loaded with wheat which, according to England, is contraband.

The Lusitania was sunk by mistake, according to Germany, and as Germany has answered and is willing to pay for both, President Wilson seems to be satisfied, so why should not Mr. Irish be?

I am an American and I try to be neutral, and look at it from both sides. If I favor the Germans it is caused by the evident readiness of the newspapers and some people to put all the blame on Germany and extol the English, and even the Russians, in everything they do and a good many things they don't do. Respectfully, F. P. WILLIAMS.

Oakland, June 19.

COLONEL IRISH MAKES PERTINENT ANSWER.

To the Editor: Mr. Williams makes the mistake of comparing things that are not comparable, and so draws a conclusion from a faulty premise. If we accept his figure of speech, the answer is apparent. Every party to the present war feels and has the right to feel, that life and welfare are at stake, then why excuse one of them for forgetting "every law that was ever written," while the others do not forget?

The feet-pace of Japan was at stake in the war with Russia, yet she fought her battle in strict observance of the rules of civilized warfare and observing all the rules of the hard game she won against greater odds than confront any of the Christian nations at war.

Mr. Williams holds a brief for the destruction of the American ship William F. Frye, by a German cruiser, because she was loaded with wheat, which England holds to be contraband! Ship and cargo were American property under the flag of the United States, and Mr. Williams decides that Germany had the right to destroy her because England considered wheat contraband.

I have to advise that he begin with the works of Hugo Grotius and read on through the law of nations.

The United States denies that flour, wheat and barley are contraband, and denies that contraband can make the law of the sea. The little republic of San Marino has declared war. According to Mr. Williams' idea, if San Marino decide that American foods and fibers are contraband that decision outlaws them and they may be destroyed with the ships that carry them.

The case of the Lusitania has been fully stated. Her destruction was legitimate. The destruction of her crew and passengers was foul and appalling murder, which expels Germany from the group of civilized states and puts her back with Genghis Khan and Timur.

That she fights "any old way" Belgium is an ever-defender and dead babies mangled by hands and feet to doors behind which murder has made the silence of death. It will be a sad day for civilization if Americans adopt the idea of "any way" in war, for that means poisoning by poison gas, the murder of a country of drinking water, the murder of prisoners, the condemnation of war prisoners to chattel slavery, the murder of babies and the use of stunk pots.

JAPAN AND CHRISTIANITY.

To the Editor: In a recent issue of The Tribune I noticed a dispatch from St. Helena, California, in which Elder A. G. Daniels of the Seventh Day Adventists was reported to have stated "doors against scheming to Christ." Obviously this statement is based upon misinformation. Elder Daniels says that Bishop Bashford represents the Methodist Episcopal church in Korea, but we all know that Bishop Bashford is a bishop for China and does not represent the Methodist church in Korea. Dr. M. C. Harris being the Methodist bishop for Korea. This statement that "the open door in Japan, as far as Protestant missionary endeavor is concerned, is fast closing," and that "Japanese Government has planned to make Shinto, the supreme religion of the land," is extremely absurd. In fact, I could hardly believe my eyes when I read these words attributed to Elder Daniels.

True, there was certain misunderstanding between the missionaries and the Japanese administration in Korea, and the Japanese administration in the peninsula, but what misunderstandings there were have long since been removed and at present the missionaries are well pleased with the policy of the Japanese authorities.

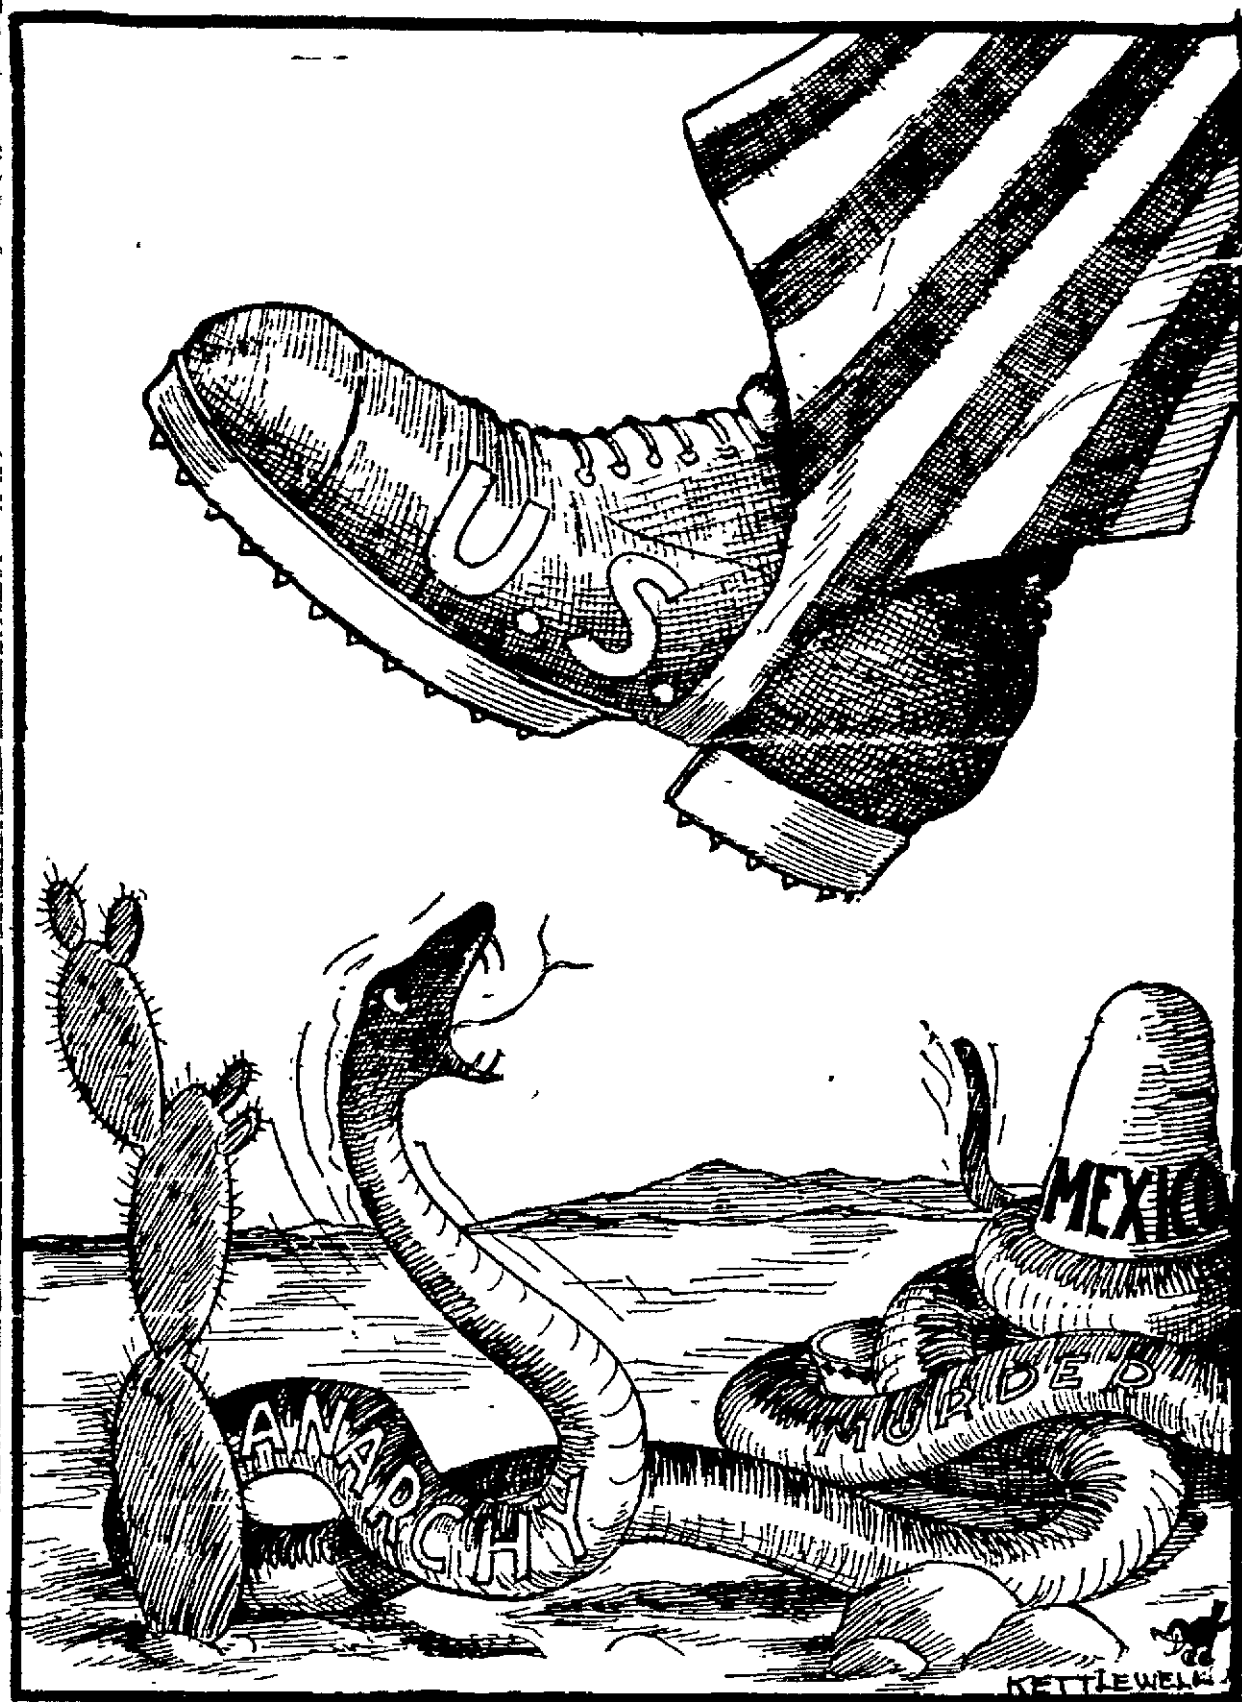

Japan boasts of being one of the few countries in the world whose governments have kept aloof from religion. In Japan there is no state religion, and no attempt has been made to establish any religion as the supreme religion of the country.

Last Christmas the Mikado contributed several thousand dollars to the Christmas fund of the Salvation Army of Tokyo. During the last ten months foreign missionaries in co-operation with Japanese pastors have been conducting a vigorous evangelical campaign throughout Japan. Do those things indicate that Japan is going to close her doors to Christian missions?

To the Editor: I noticed in The Sunday Tribune an article referring to the gold medals of honor recently given to the Packard Motor Company and the Standard Oil Company of the exposition at Seattle. As an old oil man who has no connection with any of the big companies in this state and never has had, I desire to say a word about the awarding of the latter medal. It is stated in the official announcement that the medal of honor is given to the Standard Oil Company on account of its policy in dealing with the public and its manner of dealing with individuals and with those whom it employs.

This is a well merited honor and only expresses what hundreds of people already know, namely, that in its dealings, the Standard Oil Company of California is a square and upright concern. You can rely on the word of the officials just as you can rely upon the qualities of its products. The medal is a just tribute, and a fine recognition of the merits, of the straightforwardness of the country.

A CALIFORNIAN'S WORK.

One of the best jobs ever put across by American grit and energy and sense is that done by the American Commission for relief in Belgium under the chairmanship of Herbert C. Hoover. The disrupted economic system of a community numbering over seven million people has been patched up, set going, and kept going. This work takes between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 per month, of which the United States has furnished about a third. The German government has imposed on Belgium a war tribute which the best authorities estimate at $8,000,000 per month. The German officials in charge are collecting this right along by forced loans and other methods. Some distinguished Americans, including, among others, David Starr Jordan, have memorialized the Kaiser to remit these "war indemnities," as the polite term is.

DAILY PRESS
AD. VALUE
GAININGNewspapers' Highest Tax,
Says J. H. Finn, Is Supporting Confidence.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 22.—Present day newspapers are a better advertising medium than ever because they have a more gripping national power—a power that should be studied by every thinking advertiser. Joseph H. Finn of Chicago told delegates attending the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World here today. Mr. Finn spoke of the "newspaper, the advertiser and the advertising agent." He declared that advertising is the news about merchandising, and that there was nothing closer to the hearts of the reading public than the "live news concerning buying opportunity."

"I believe in the efficiency of newspaper advertising, because I have seen what it can do in such a variety of lines, covering such a diversity of propositions that the possibility of further accident must be eliminated from consideration."

It is the paper which publishes the true news that pays the advertiser best, the speaker said.

Generally speaking, the best newspaper is the one which secures the best advertising," Mr. Finn continued. "And the best advertising is what helps make it the best newspaper. That is the slogan of this convention. Truth is the slogan of the newspapers that hope to win the most lasting success—the widest influence."

"I have seen almost overnight newspaper advertising and merchandising successes that would have been deemed incredible ten years ago. And the successes were solid—they stood put."

"Undoubtedly the greatest thing that newspapers can do for advertisers—for the business world, for humanity—is to spread the gospel of optimism, to chart a straight course of confidence. A newspaper that deals in unquieting rumors, that dispenses gloom and that is always on the hair trigger of uncertainty defeats the advertiser and defeats itself."

"It is the truth that good times and bad are purely a matter of psychology. In this respect the power of the newspaper is almost beyond reckoning. Boost and keep on boosting."

Sailor Is Shot Dead
by Wharf Watchman

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—During a quarrel aboard the steamer Koon Poon, a quarrel which broke out at an early hour this morning, Theodore Swanson, a sailor on the steamer, was shot dead by Charles C. Haberman, a watchman.

Swanson, accompanied by Wilhelm Carlsson and Axel Olafson of the Marguerite, returned to the ship in an intoxicated condition, according to the police, and following an argument Swanson is said to have struck Haberman. Haberman drew his revolver and fired one shot which was fatal in its effect.

Haberman lives at 219 Harrison street. He was placed under a posse of police and taken to the Central station, where a charge of murder was placed against him.

Conferences, subjects of interest to real estate investors and real estate advertising occupied the attention of the delegates at the sessions today. A number of papers on these topics were read and discussed.

He woke up some time later in the street minus the roll. He complained to the police, but this morning continued his search for the roll. A ranch hand from Stockton, met a stranger on the train coming here yesterday, and when he arrived in this city a fellow countryman offered him services in cashing a $300 draft. He returned with bills of large denomination which, he explained, ought to be changed to smaller ones. He left to make the change and failed to return to Second and Mission streets, where Patterson was waiting.

HIST! SAY COPS,
HOT ON TRAILCock-a-doodle-doo! Is the Mysterious Answer

Hist! Desperate criminals are at work!
The neighbors are in terror!
"Hist!"
This was the appeal that reached the Melrose police station last night over the telephone.
"Hist!"

So remarked Lieutenant of Police Woods. With one hand he reached for his trusty bat, while with the other he loosened a few buttons over his chest.

And forth from the Melrose station marched the lieutenant, with Corporal O'Neill and a posse of policemen bringing up the rear.

"Surround the building, men!" ordered the lieutenant. "They're getting ready to blow the safe!"

"The men crept into a circle formation, and the lieutenant, revolver in hand, strode to the door."

"Surrender, villains!" he shouted, as he burst through the entrance, covering the room with his eagle eye, electric flashlight and heavy-caliber revolver simultaneously.

"Cock-a-doodle-doo!" So sang a chandelier, who, with a number of chickens, was in due season in a box in a corner of the room. Not a burglar was in sight. The chickens made the noise.

"That's what comes of making stockyards out of express offices," disgustedly commented the lieutenant.

"Hist!" said Corporal O'Neill. And the posse went off its way back to the Melrose station.

CONTINUE TRADE
EXTENSION PLANFinancial Conference Idea to Be Carried Out by McAdoo.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Definite steps were taken today by Secretary McAdoo to continue the work of the recent Pan-American financial conference, and to further the extension of closer financial and commercial relations between the nations of the western hemisphere.

McAdoo, with the authority of the conference behind him, made public the names of the representatives of the United States to be selected to the international high commission on uniform laws and membership of a committee to consider a visit of American business men and financiers to Central and South America. He also announced the personnel for the United States group committee, which are to consider the special needs of each of the countries represented at the recent conference.

COMMISSION PLANNED.
The international commission is to be made up of the representatives of the United States, Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean, and a number of persons from South and Central American nations, to be named by the finance minister of each. All the committees are unofficial. Congress made no appropriation for further work along the lines laid out, but the administration is expected to put forth every effort to continue it.

The representatives of the United States on the international high commission are: Secretary McAdoo, chairman; John Bassett Moore, Columbia University, vice chairman; John H. P. Morgan, United States Chamber of Commerce; David R. Francis, St. Louis; E. P. Gary, chairman of board United States Steel Corporation; A. B. Hepburn, Chase National Bank, New York; George H. Reynolds, Continental and Commercial National Bank, Chicago; Henry P. Dawson, J. P. Morgan & Company; Samuel Untermyer, and Dr. Leo S. Rowe, secretary-general of the recent conference.

SEEK GOLD STANDARD.
Among the subjects which the recent conference suggested should be considered by the high commission is the establishment of a gold standard of value bills of exchange, commercial paper and bills of lading, uniform classification of merchandise, customs regulations, trade marks and patents, uniform rate of postage, money orders, parcels post, arbitration of commercial disputes, and the adjustment of commercial disputes.

Mr. McAdoo recently suggested that this commission meet in Buenos Aires November 1.

BODY OF NEEDHAM TO BE RETURNED TO U. S.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, June 22.—Investigation made by experts is said to have revealed that the airplane accident which resulted in the deaths of Lieutenant R. A. J. Warnerford and Henry Beach Needham, the American writer on June 17, was due to the fact that the men were not strapped to their seats. It is now believed that Lieutenant Warnerford was "switch-backing" and not attempting to "loop the loop" when the accident occurred.

Mr. Needham was thrown out first. He was struck and killed by the propeller before he reached the ground. Lieutenant Warnerford fell clear but the injuries he suffered when he struck caused his death a few minutes later.

The body of Mr. Needham probably will be sent to the United States aboard the French line steamer Chicago, sailing from Bordeaux.

Following completion of plans for a thorough covering of Oakland by districts, work was started today on the circulation of referendum petitions in Alameda county against the non-partisan election bill passed at the recent session of the state legislature.

The final details were formulated last night by the executive committee of the Republican County Central Committee. Secretary Rod Church of the executive committee obtained the petitions from San Francisco this afternoon, bringing them across the bay and placing them at once in the hands of circulators. A meeting of the committee was called by Chairman Peter J. Crosby for 5 o'clock this evening to more specifically plan for circulation of the petition.

The meeting of the Republican executive committee last night brought forth a number of important developments. In the first place, the committee voted to work in conjunction with the Republican State Central Committee and the Non-Partisan State Committee, a state organization composed of members of all parties save Progressives, who are declared behind the bill now being fought.

The petitions circulated today were originated by the non-partisan committee.

SOCIAL CAMPAIGN READY.
Following the decision to work with the remainder of the bodies, Alameda county committee took up in detail the plans for the covering of the county by districts. Circulators in every city and district were today armed with copies of the petitions which, when signed will be returned to the headquarters of the committee, which is holding its meetings in the office of the David Eccles estate, valued at over $5,000,000, for her minor son, called Albert Geddes and Albert Geddes Eccles, was stated yesterday by attorneys for both sides when the jury was being secured.

CURIOUS! DIVORCE RESULT
SCALED WALLS OF PALACEMRS. GEORGE PIKE, WHO THOUGHT AMERICA MIGHT CURE HER HUSBAND'S CURIOSITY. HE DIDN'T COME. A DIVORCE
FOLLOWED.Former Oakland Woman Alleges
Escapade Injured Her

If George Pike, the Englishman, who scaled the walls of Buckingham Palace to see what the King's residence was like inside, had come to America, he might have learned a cure to curiosity. So declared Mrs. Pike, in Oakland, when the episode occurred. But he did not come.

Divorce decrees was granted in Fort Scott, Kansas, to Mrs. Pike yesterday, according to word received in Oakland today. Her husband is still in England—in fact, never came to America, and, furthermore, his wife alleged in filing her suit, that the undesirable publicity connected with the escapade of her husband caused her grave injury.

Mrs. Pike, a year ago, was housekeeper at the home of Edgar L. Ormsby, in Oakland, when news came from England of Pike's invasion of the London home of Britain's ruler.

The man, it was charged, climbed the wall, entered the palace and was strolling about, giving the royal family considerable of a fright, when arrested. He was later released. He declared that curiosity tempted him to the escapade.

"I hope he has learned a lesson," declared Mrs. Pike, in Oakland, at the time. "They may women are curious, but no woman ever got into trouble through getting into a palace, to see what it was like!"

But he did not come here. Whether he intended in the British army, or decided to stay abroad for other reasons, is not stated in the complaint.

Mrs. Pike lived in Oakland for more than a year.

OLD GUARD TO BE MUSTERED
Survivors of Pioneer Force to Parade and Feast

New and old will be united when, under the shadow of Oakland's towering city hall, monument to her modern progressiveness, this evening will be mustered the Old Guard remnant of pioneer days. Annually the veterans of Oakland's oldest military company, organized in 1851, hold a convivial gathering when reminiscences and old stories are exchanged.

Survivors of the little military force will meet in front of the city hall and march to their banquet room at Seventh and Broadway. They will be escorted by Company A of the National Guard and headed by the Albany band. Over 100 veterans will be present. At the head of the table will sit M. E. Clough, ex-city marshal of Oakland. Among the guests of honor will be Major L. C. Francis, Chief of Police; Walter J. Petersen, Judge George Samuels, Major G. H. Wethers, commanding the Oakland battalion of the National Guard, and Charles G. Field.

Following the toasts the veterans will be entertained by instrumental and vocal numbers by talented artists. The program has been arranged by a committee composed of R. J. Carrasco, chairman, ex-county treasurer George Chase and Martin Ryan.

DRILLED IN BARN.
From the Old Guard was formed Company A of the National Guard. The members held their drill in barns and other places in Oakland, when the town consisted of only a few streets of houses and stores.

The assembly will take place at 8 o'clock this evening and the parade down Broadway will be led by Lieutenant J. A. C. MacDonald. Captain P. H. Hansen will command the escorting infantry.

Always every one of these "boys of the old brigade" was prominent in business and public life in the early days and the annual roll call draws together a representative company of men. They wear no distinctive uniform, but their assemblage, when their work as pioneers in the up-building of the East Bay region is recalled will be none the less impressive for that reason.

VARIOUS THEFTS ARE

Mrs. Adams 121 Fifth street, had stolen from her home a push cart and a step-ladder.

Heart, Blood, Pulse,
Breath Stops, Talks'Dead Man' Comes Back to Life, Then Dies

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Twenty minutes after he had been pronounced dead by surgeons at the police receiving hospital H. G. Harris, a merchant, stricken today with cardiac trouble, opened his eyes and asked the attendants to turn him over. His heart, however, was not beating according to the surgeons, nor did it respond to powerful stimulants, which were promptly injected. Twice more the man spoke although pulse, blood and breath had stopped. Harris was stricken shortly after he had opened his place of business.

Prison Murderer May Be Known by Tonight

By Associated Press.
JOLIET, Ill., June 22.—Officials of the penitentiary expressed belief that the name of the convict who murdered the wife of Warden Allen, Sunday morning, would be known today.

"Chicken Joe" Campbell, the negro trusty, principal suspect in the case, gave the information on which the prediction was based.

At midnight last night Deputy Warden Ryan and four other prison officials entered Campbell's cell, where he had been on bread and water, and kept in a standing position for an hour, Sunday. The negro was badly shaken by his treatment, but according to Ryan did not confess.

"For two hours we gave him the third degree," said Ryan, "and he told us enough to center suspicion on one man. I will be surprised if a sensation does not develop by noon."

The inquest was resumed at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Allen was to be buried this afternoon.

Only Few Cases in Store for Tribunal

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Only six cases will be under advisement by the supreme court during the summer recess, a new record for that tribunal. Ever since Chief Justice White was elevated to his present position, he has sought to have all cases argued and presented to the court for decision disposed of before the summer recess. With this in view, he lengthened the yearly sessions by two weeks. This year the chief justice came the nearest to touching his ambition.

The cases under advisement, one concerns the constitutionality of the Webb-Kenyon liquor law and another the validity of the Oregon minimum wage law.

About 500 cases, not ready for argument, however, are on the court's docket, in addition to those under advisement.

S. P. RATE REDUCTION
EFFECTIVE ON JUNE 26

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Freight Traffic Manager G. W. Luce of the Southern Pacific Company announced yesterday that June 26 has been set as the date on which the new 40-cent rates on canned goods, asphaltum, beans and barley from San Francisco, San Pedro and Wilmington, to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Charleston, via the Sunset Gulf route, become effective. The Interstate Commerce Commission recently gave the company permission to establish the reduced rates that it might more effectively meet canal competition. The reductions enable California producers to ship their goods by rail at practically the same rates which can be secured through the canal.

LOSSES DAMAGE SUIT.
A jury in Judge Waste's court late yesterday afternoon denied damages to Mrs. Alice Grummett, who sued for $25,000 for the death of her husband, John Grummett, who was killed when run down by an automobile driven by Owen Paul in East Fourteenth street last November. The jury, after two hours' deliberation, held that Grummett, who was 65 years of age, invited the accident by crossing the street in the middle of the block.

PARTNERSHIP PROVES LOSING PROPOSITION

R. E. Dunlavy does not believe that the life of a florist is a bed of roses, according to a complaint which he filed in the Superior Court today asking that his partnership with T. D. Witt be dissolved. Dunlavy claims that Witt induced him to invest $500 into a florist business which the former owned. After looking over the books of the concern, says Dunlavy, he learned that the liabilities outweighed the assets. Witt had also disappeared, he says. Therefore he wants the partnership dissolved.

STROUD IS BACK, JUBILANT OVER NORTHERN GAMES

U. C.'s Graduate Manager is Optimistic Over Football Change.

Manager John Stroud of the University of California has returned from a trip to the North for a football season despite the severance of athletic relations between California and Stanford.

The greatest advantage that will accrue to California from the return of the old game will be the playing of the Pacific Coast college teams against the Eastern teams.

Walter Christie, California's veteran trainer, who was in Berkeley yesterday from his summer home in Healdsburg, was well pleased at the change to the American game.

Christie will be a great aid to the U. C. team, for he has been in football which any trainer might be proud of.

NO HAWAIIAN TRIP FOR U. C. TOSSERS

"OAKLAND FAN" VOICES SENTIMENTS OF PUBLIC

Oakland, June 21, 1918. Sporting Editor.—The summary dismissal of J. Tyler Christian as manager of the Oakland baseball club has, in spite of recent rumors, come as a distinct shock to the fans in this community.

I think it is generally agreed, both by baseball managers and the supporters of the club, that the dismissal of Mr. Christian was a mistake.

It was a mistake because Mr. Christian has been a member of the Oakland club for about eight years and has given them his very best.

TENNIS TRAINING NO AT MATTER OF FIXED RULES

Natural Aptitude Is a Great Factor in Development of Crack Players.

All good tennis players are asked many questions during a season from what became proficient at the game and what qualifications are essential to make an expert. A real answer is exceedingly difficult to give.

The greatest players we have had, without naming them in the order of their greatness, are Larned, McLaughlin, Williams, and Whitcomb.

Physical condition is, of course, vitally important in tennis. It is the strain of five long sets under most trying circumstances before becoming a contender for high honors.

It isn't only the rules of walking and running that make a long match wearing. The nervous strain, remaining for so long a time under such high tension, is what makes many players break in a pinch.

The five man named were the only ones who were able to play two games of tennis against each other on successive days.

Superficial weight is fatal. No fat man can play tennis well, or, to put it differently, a good lean man will beat a fat man every time.

It is a fact that there were hundreds of men who played tennis well in the past, but who are no longer able to do so.

Let's Hope They Don't Ruin Rowdy as Catcher

That's What Spoiled Mitze, and What Spoils Most Good Players

By BILLY FITZ. No matter what our opinion may be concerning the way in which the Oakland Club is being man-handled, no one wishes "Rowdy" Elliott and the club more success than we do.

UMP. FORGOT UNI. Time was late in starting a game at Philadelphia one day under the single umpire system and Connie Mack sent to the umpire's room to ascertain the cause of the delay.

"I forgot my uniform," explained Hurst, "and the game can't start until I get it. A bell hop is coming out from the hotel with it."

Pretty soon the boy showed up with the uniform, which consisted of a little blue cap, as Tim wore the same shoes and suit on the field that he did on the street, even to patent leather.

These same patent leathers got him into a lot of trouble. Knowing they were his pride, arguing players, Clark Griffith in particular, used to caress them with their spikes when arguing with Hurst. On one occasion when Griffith trod on Tim's new pair of glistening shoes "what work went Hurst's fist into Griffith's face. It was for something similar that he spat in Eddie Collins' face and his retirement as an American league umpire followed.

Boxers Smash Hands By Foolish Swinging Old timers Took Good Care of Their Hands, but Modern Boxers Are Careless

(By JACK SKELLEY) Quite recently two big husky, rugged fighters tore and smashed away at each other for almost nine rounds like two wild men.

They put up a very terrific fight and the managers threw up the sponge in order to save his man from being annihilated or very badly punished.

I refer to the tough battle between Jim Coffey, the "Roscommon Giant" (calling him the Dublin Giant is a misnomer), and Jim Flynn, the "Fighting Irish" of Brighton Beach race track on Decoration Day.

It was indeed a wild unskillful mill from going to going, full of reckless and rapid swinging fists of unskillful swings and aimless blows.

It was a wonder to me that both did not smash their hands all to pieces. Flynn broke his left mitt so it became utterly useless in the fourth round, and when Billy Calhoun removed Coffey's gloves after the bout he found that both of the young Irishman's fists were busted and some of the smaller bones broken.

Is it any wonder that both these unscientific ringsters should not smash their hands at the rough pace they were going? Coffey displayed a little more skill in the rounds, but he hit too often without steadiness himself and using good marksmanship in his delivery of telling blows.

A half dozen or even less of well-calculated wallops, or straight punches with the proper stance behind them would count far more than the some 20 or more blows Coffey must have landed on the ex-fighter, without even forcing him to back water to any great extent.

No man ever showed more real grit and gameness than Flynn in this bout, but he seems to lack all ideas of blocking or sidestepping a punch, except with his head.

If the "Roscommon Giant" would only learn how to shoot, not straight, but curved hitting now and then, he would be a dangerous man for even Jess Willard to tackle within the ropes, but he swings around with his wallops too much, and thereby is liable to put his big fists out of commission.

I only cite this special fight as a stark example of reckless, foolish and unskillful hitting nowadays, but we can witness night after night many cases of the same kind among the deteriorated boxers of the present day.

Amateur Boxers Find New Training Methods

Boxers Who Engage in California Ring Activities Now Have to Train After Working Hours

With the development of the amateur boxing game, entirely new methods of training have come into vogue, and there are many followers of the sport who think that the new order of affairs is getting just as good, if not better, results than the old. In the professional boxing game the remuneration which the fighter received was enough to warrant his doing nothing but his training and boxing. Now that the boys are no longer paid in money for their services they have found it necessary to work at some line of legitimate business and follow boxing as a side line and as a sport.

Some of those who work long hours at manual labor and it necessary to do little training except daily boxing practice and giving attention to their diet. Those of the local amateurs who work at less strenuous lines, however, find it necessary to do their hardest training outside of working hours, and it takes no little ambition to get out after a day's work and go through a full workout. It is undoubtedly a good thing morally for some of the youngsters to learn to do something after working hours, besides running around the streets, and the amateur game should have a very good effect on the youth of Oakland in time. The type of boys who usually go into boxing make their home on the streets by both necessity and nature. To have these boys actively engaged in the improvement of their bodies in the evening is undoubtedly a great influence for the good.

Some of the boys have chosen unique times and places to do their training. Harry Kelsey, who boxes Jimmy Ross at the Euclid Pavilion tomorrow night, is a newsboy. He does his road work on the sidewalks. Whenever Harry finds it necessary to go any place, he runs. After his papers in the morning, to his lunch at 12 o'clock, he goes to the Euclid Pavilion and trains. Kelsey develops his wind wherever he goes. His gymnasium work is done in the evening.

Jack Davis, a promising amateur type of boxer, is a street car conductor. Between runs and after work Jack takes a crack at his training. Recently Jack was seen by one of the amateur fans working out near the First street car barns at 12 o'clock at night. Jack had just come in from his run, and was sparring with one of the other employees of the car company. He is never in want of sparring partners. All the boys at the barns are right behind him and are boasting him for the light weight championship of the bay cities. They are always glad to take a turn with the gloves.

Davis finds time to do a lot with the boxing game and support a wife and two babies besides. It, of course, makes a full day for him, but Jack goes under the motto that nothing is worth having that is not worth working for. The best day of the amateurs is, of course, Sunday. That is the day in which they get most of their boxing practice.

Harry Kelsey and Jimmy Ross have both been training hard for the coming battle. Kelsey realizes that Ross is a hard one and Jimmy is training hard in hopes of reversing the decision Kelsey gained over him in a San Francisco ring some time ago. The bout was a close one, and the fans should see another good battle between the two when they mix matters tomorrow night.

Besides the Kelsey-Ross bout, the Wheelmen Club has scheduled nine four-round affairs. Johnny Nunes and Joe Titchell will meet in a special event and Jimmy Duffy has scheduled nine four-round affairs. Kid Freitas will also make a semi-windup affair.

Duffy is Oakland's premier 115-pounder, and has been made a favorite over Freitas. The latter has, however, had a great deal more experience than has Duffy, and may make the fans take notice of a short ender.

Route between Willis Webb and Bob Hecan, Pearl Rogers and Andy Anderson, Chris George and Tommy McFarland, Willie Perry and Battling Vieira, Joe Sousa and George Brown, together with two others will conclude the card.

Y. M. C. A. CHESS MATCH.
The San Francisco Y. M. C. A. has challenged the Oakland Y. M. C. A. to a chess match. The match will be played in the lobby of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, June 26th. Each Y. M. C. A. will be represented by a team of at least six players. The following team will represent the Oakland Y. M. C. A.: Elmer W. Gruen, Wallace Buchanan, Dr. Olin Hunter, E. G. Pausa, C. E. Keyes Jr. and Walter E. Brown.

EDDIE MILLER TO BOX.
Eddie Miller is to be one of the principals in a boxing bout that will be staged at Cement, Solano county, June 29. Before the passage of the anti-prize fight law, Cement was quite a center of ring activity.

Well, here it is Tuesday of Extra Point Week and it seems as if the last eight days remaining before the close of the Travel Contest are going to slip by in great haste. To the busy candidate the time is short now, and it's going to be shorter tomorrow still. Each day will close up the gap between the hustling candidate and the big vacation prizes, while those who do not improve the precious moments from now on will drift farther away from the big rewards which were at one time within their grasp, but were allowed to slip away through sheer indifference. Right now, when ten years of new subscription will net you 20,000 Extra Points is the time to get busy. Should you stop now when you are so near the goal? Are you ready to give up when a lead of a few thousand votes may be covered by a few yearly new subscriptions? Will it make any difference ten days from now whether you worked hard and won a fine vacation prize or were indolent and lost a fine chance to win?

DON'T GET STAGE FRIGHT.
Just how many candidates are getting very nervous. It's only natural to display some anxiety, but you should never fear the outcome for one moment. If you have confidence and do your best you will sure come out better than if you give away to the rumors spread here and there by cunning candidates who think they can keep you back by clever talk while they are forging ahead at the expense of your credulity. If you do all you can, you can't do more, nor can any other candidate do the impossible: BUT BE SURE AND DO ALL YOU CAN. WILL TO WIN. Fear is the forerunner of defeat. Confidence and work bring success.

Every day now seems more important now than the day before. This is because they are growing so few.
Just think one more week after tomorrow. ONE WEEK in which to win a $2125 Cadillac Eight, a $500 Trip to New York, a $200 Trip to Hawaii or a beautiful district prize vacation trip. You will have no time tomorrow to do what you should have accomplished tonight.

HOW ABOUT YOUR ENTHUSIASM?

A hard-headed business man realizes that in every transaction he undertakes it is fatal to let his enthusiasm cool. A clammy candidate can't win in a contest any more than a corpse at a funeral, and unless you can keep up steam for the last week when the real work counts and counts for Extra Points, you may as well make up your mind to accept one of the smaller vacations and be satisfied. Watch for the appearance of the mid week standing tomorrow. There will be a number of changes, but there will be more when the big week is over. See that the number opposite your name is sufficient to show your friends that you are still in the race for the big eight-cylinder Cadillac and the many vacation prizes. Only eight days more and the "Flight" is yours if you lead in the number of points over all other candidates.

The Sanitary Range— The Sanitary Kitchen

Every housekeeper knows what "Sanitary" means in connection with the cooking. The modern kitchen is not considered complete without sanitary appliances. The range is the more important. It is used to prepare all meals and luncheons.

The Modern Gas Ranges

are sanitary. The white enamel parts are easy to clean. The plain smooth castings are polished or enameled so that they can be washed. The silver finish nickel parts are smooth, highly polished, welded joints, instead of bolts or rivets, leaves all surface smooth and even. The body and canopies are made of non-rust material. The hoods and vents carry off all fumes.

CHANGES MANY IN DAY'S FIGURES

TRADE FAIR, AND
NO HEAVY SALESCantaloupes Drop. But
Other Changes Are Notable.

Though trade was fair today, it was not heavy enough to cause any dramatic changes in quotations, especially as the cantaloupes remained moderate. The top on cantaloupes dropped to 17 1/2 per unit, but standards were very firm toward noon at 17 1/2, as the entire arrival of this morning was sold. The cantaloupe market was very strong. Peaches sold at 15 1/2 to 17 1/2, the lowest figure generally applying to hold over stock.

There is a considerable supply of green peaches, and new plums that are practically impossible to move and which are being offered by dealers at very low prices. Only the ripe, desirable specimens are moving freely. Among the consignments were some fine peaches in crates that had been in the market for weeks, but the average quotation is very weak at 40 to 50 cents. Currents also weakened, dropping to 32 to 33 per case, and would not have cleared up except for the canners who were buying at 32 to 33 per case.

Loganberries, coming in too heavily for the slight demand, declined 50 cents to a top of 25 per case, but strawberries advanced the same amount to a 45 to 50 per case. Raspberries and blackberries, held at yesterday's quotation, 40 cents, of the latter from Watsonville bringing 35. Practically no crates of berries came into the market today, but the price on the street continues still rather lower than the f. o. b. price at shipping points. Fruit arrivals were a consignment of Hawaiian pineapples, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 per dozen.

Green corn, which has been improving steadily and coming into the reach of more buyers. Again the price per sack dropped decidedly and ranged from 22 1/2 to 23 1/2, though the market was very strong. The price on the street continued to rise at bottom over yesterday. Tomatoes are also improving. Local fruit arrivals were not plentiful, while an oversupply of green stock is hard to move at any figure. The best grade grade was selling at 65 cents to 1 dollar, while some of the poorer grades were offered at 45 to 50 cents in small boxes. Pole beans took another tumble, selling at 31 to 32 per sack, while white beans were offered at 35 to 40 per sack. Squash could scarcely be sold today and small boxes of Marysville were offered and usually sold at anywhere from 35 to 40 per sack.

Fresh young bay squash is just beginning to come in and was bringing from 90 cents to $1 for large lots, as it is very early. Cucumbers from all districts weakened because of the supply on hand that has not been cleaned up. Lower green peas sold at prices varying according to quality, good San Leandro stuff bringing from 15 to 16 per bushel, while inferior grades were offered at 11 to 12 1/2. Half Moon Bay peas are improving and arriving in more plentiful quantities at 15 to 16 cents per bushel.

Two Firemen Killed; Fourteen Are Hurt

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Two firemen were killed and 14 others injured today fighting a fire which destroyed one of the buildings of Thomas Potter Sons & Company, clothing manufacturers. The dead are William James, a battalion chief, and John Hillman Jr., a ladder man.

TELLS BIBLE'S VALUE

The six men of the present generation were 2000 years behind the Bible in announcing the great truths of modern science. So declared Dr. William Fries in a lecture on "Modern Science vs. the Bible" at Oakland's peace palace on Fourteenth and Franklin streets last night. He added: "One large publishing firm in New York discarded from its shelves all books on science over seven years old. So rapidly have new things been discovered. Yet the Bible is never out of date. It needs no revision, it always tells the same story, because it is truth."

Wilson Having New Seamen Law Reviewed

WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Wilson is having the new seamen law closely reviewed to determine whether its effect on American shipping or its relation to other laws on these same subjects make amendments necessary. One large Pacific steamship line already has announced its disapproval of the law. Several foreign nations have protested against the law and the United States has given notice of its intention to terminate portions of treaties with which it contains provisions far in excess of those required from abroad.

TINGSTROM DENIED PROBATION. MARTINEZ, June 22.—Jesse Tingstrom of Richmond, accused of contributing to the delinquency of 14-year-old Sandra Gudberry, has been denied probation and has changed his plea from guilty to not guilty. He will be tried July 8. Tingstrom was found in a cabin on the ship from Richmond in company with the girl and shot by Sandy Gudberry her father.

SURGICAL QUACKS FLAYED MEDICOS INAUGURATE NEW PRESIDENT FEE-SPLITTING ATTACKED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Dr. W. L. Rodman of Philadelphia, the newly elected President of the American Medical Association, who delivered his inaugural address at today's session of the annual meeting of the association, introduced a series of resolutions to some of the evils in the surgical profession.

"In every community," he said, "men are operating who have no right to take human life into their hands. This does not apply to the general practitioner, who, in an emergency, and to the best of his ability, operates in an attempt to save life, but to those who, for gain, undertake that which should be done only by the skillful surgeon. Surgery is a special science, extra hazardous in its nature, and hence the public has a right to demand of the surgeon the very highest physical, mental and moral equipment."

In the eradication of this evil of the incompetent surgeon, Dr. Rodman said that the American College of Surgeons, which was organized only two years ago, was to be heartily congratulated upon the progress made.

"The positive stand the college has taken on fee-splitting alone more than justifies its existence," he said. "This evil has become intolerable, and a wave of protest is rising throughout the land which should and we believe will overwhelm the offenders."

"Let us at once apply the ax to the root, make this nefarious practice impossible, and drive from the surgical temple those who defile it."

Referring to the efforts which the association had made in the elimination of patent medicine frauds, Dr. Rodman said the fight had involved legal proceedings which the association was combating vigorously, but that it was interesting to note that concerns of new preparations for the market were coming to the association's experts for endorsement. The Council of Pharmacy and Chemistry now had in its laboratories three chemists who give their whole time to testing such medicine, and the work had culminated in the issue of a book entitled, "Useful Drugs," which is a number of the best schools now use as a text book.

"It remains," he said, "for the profession to set its ban on all proprietary medicines. If the only information concerning them comes from those who manufacture and sell them."

A point on which Dr. Rodman laid great stress was secondary education leading to the medical profession. The reforms which the association had fought for in medical schools had been so far brought about that the standard required was now as high as it should be for all of the schools of the entire country.

WOULD ENFORCE MINIMUM. "An irreducible minimum has been reached," he said, "and it should be enforced. There is, of course, no limit to the maximum that any highly endowed and exceptionally circumstanced institution may adopt for itself."

He said that the ranks of the medical schools had been so thinned that a third of the schools were now hours short of students, and it was expedient to mark time for a while and "give those institutions which have approached the firing line at a double-quick speed a chance to catch their breath."

But the problem of secondary education for the medical man, he thought, was hampered by too high tuition. Although a course in biology, chemistry and physics was agreed upon as a prerequisite to the study of medicine, the subjects were not taught satisfactorily in the high schools and colleges generally.

"Therefore, for the present at least, it must be taught largely by the medical school or the medical man, as has been suggested by distinguished educators, a rearrangement of the curricula of high schools, so that they will embrace a course in the sciences which will be acceptable to medical schools. This, we believe, is the very best solution of the problem."

His address forms a report filed with the secretary of the association. Unsatisfactory conditions in rural schools are reported on by Dr. Henry B. Fayall, organization of public health work and the placing of such operations on an efficiency basis in the subject of a report filed by Professor Selaskar M. Gurn.

"Avoid the Dance" Is Doctor's Warning Cry

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Avoid the dance, if you are temperate use of your pediclar extremities in too frequent and furious terpsichorean festivities, the sequel of insanely popular festivities. Balloons, tangoes, fish walks, angle worms and other forms of dizzy whirl perpetually practiced by devotees of "St. Vitus," that blessed patron of the dance.

Dr. Barnes' paper on the subject is a part of the records of the American Therapeutic Society convention in session here. Dr. Barnes went into all his reasoning from the dance, from weakened arches to inflamed "ossa fulcrum."

Medicoes of Two Continents Act

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The program of the coming year of the Pan-American Congress is complete. A certain set of problems to be encountered, these being drawn up by the meetings which closed yesterday, today were issued as the coming year's program of the organization.

These are the congress' aims:

To clarify contagious diseases geographically so as better to combine in combating each.

To importune the Pan-American Union to promote exchange of medically scientific matter and news.

To gather reports on the status of medical education in the respective countries on this hemisphere.

To determine the feasibility of an interchange between the countries of medical professorships.

To have choice of location for the 1918 congress in the hands of the United States member of the Pan-American Medical Executive Commission.

To secure the appointment in each American country of a committee to investigate its flora for international medical purposes.

To raise an international fund for that purpose.

They also passed a vote of hearty appreciation of the work performed in Brazil by Vice President Dr. Oswaldo Cruz of Rio Janeiro.

They also passed a vote of appreciation of good offices of President Dr. Charles Reed of Cincinnati, Secretary Dr. Ramon Gutierrez of New York, Treasurer Dr. H. P. Newman of San Diego, Cal., and Dr. H. L. E. Johnson of Washington, D. C., as government representative.

Advise Nitrous Oxide; Not "Twilight Sleep"

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—"Sunrise Slumber" beats "Twilight Sleep," say America's anesthetists. They have passed resolutions to that effect. And Sunrise Slumber is simply nitrous oxide—the dentist's old friend, laughing gas under another name. It is also administered at childbirth. Dr. Charles E. Teter of Cleveland went into details on the new treatment. A "fool proof" apparatus for the work, he declares, has been discovered.

Contest Suit Filed in Election in South

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Ralph

Wiley, a taxpayer, filed suit in the Superior Court yesterday for a recount of the vote cast for mayor in the election June 1. Charles E. Sebastian, chief of police, was elected.

according to the official canvass, by more than 4500 over Frederick Wallsten, president of the city council. Wiley alleges that there were irregularities in all precincts sufficient, he believes to reverse the result.

"I notice that your food is insured!"

"Indeed, yes!—I wouldn't trust the food for my healthy growing children in any but a 'LEONARD CLEANABLE REFRIGERATOR.' The lining of this 'LEONARD,' you know, is of spotless WHITE PORCELAIN, made all in ONE PIECE without a single crack or seam, so there isn't a possible chance for a worm or germ to get in. Why, you can't even scratch this porcelain with a knife. And it's a delight to clean the 'Leonard.' I simply wash it like I would a china dish. Then when it comes to ICE—I never had a refrigerator that used so little."

"Has Aroused Universal Comment and Praise"

writes H. C. deWolfe, secretary of the Reform Trading Organization of China, Inc., after a visit to the marvelous KEEN KUTTER exhibit in the Manufacturers' Palace.

Thousands of other prominent hardware merchants have been moved to just such expressions of appreciation.

This exhibit is indeed a masterpiece in the art of mechanical effort. It combines the scintillating movement of thousands of pieces of hardware with a beauty and strength of arrangement that amazes the eye. Picture a moving river, a tumbling waterfall, sparkling fountains, chime-playing blacksmiths—all made of hardware. Yet this gives you but a beginning of the wonders of this KEEN KUTTER display.

Every hardware dealer who visits the Panama Exposition is invited to this exhibit representing KEEN KUTTER, the world's greatest trade marked line of tools. Plan to come.

Are Laymen Forging Ahead of Physicians?

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Are laymen forging ahead of physicians as experts in preventive medicine?

This is the question that today was the topic of all physicians at the American Association session. The warning of President Victor C. Vaughan, who declared such to be the case, first met with heated denials, but Vaughan's facts and figures put a different light on the matter and considerable discussion of preventive medicine will be held during the session as a result.

"Many of our intelligent men," declared the association president, "know more than their doctors. The American medical profession is in danger of losing its hold on the advances made in preventive medicine. It should give us cause for thought."

Health Conservation Will Have Its Day

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—"Health Conservation Day" will be celebrated tomorrow at the exposition by the visiting physicians and surgeons of the American Medical Association.

Sanitary exhibits of malaria, hookworm, typhoid fever, syphilis, leprosy, tuberculosis and pyorrhea alveolaris will be shown all day for public inspection.

The morning program includes addresses by Dr. Victor C. Vaughan on "Infection and Immunity," Surgeon General W. C. Gorgas on "Yellow Fever," Dr. W. J. Mayo on "The Prevention and Cure of Cancer," and Dr. W. A. Pusey on "Syphilis as a Modern Problem."

At 2 p. m. "Leprosy" will be discussed by Dr. George W. McCoy, "Tuberculosis" by Dr. Gerald B. Webb, "Typhoid" by Dr. W. C. Fucker, "Bubonic Plague" by Dr. Rupert Blue, "Syphilis and Gonorrhea" by Dr. A. H. Warthin, "Diphtheria" by Dr. W. C. Hassler, "Rabies" by Dr. W. H. Kellogg, "Yellow Fever" by Dr. G. M. Converse, "Malaria" by Dr. C. C. Bass and "C. C. Terce," "Dysentery" by Dr. J. M. Holt, "Hookworm" by Dr. J. A. Witherspoon, and "Typhoid Fever" by Dr. W. A. Sawyer.

Workingmen Suffer Heavy Illness Loss

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—That the working classes of the United States lose annually $266,000,000 in loss of wages through illness and pay $24,000,000 for medical aid, making a total of $290,000,000 for 23,500,000 wage earners, on the basis of the declaration of Dr. Alexander Lambert, chairman of the judicial committee of the American Medical Association. Going into figures the doctor traced the different illnesses their costs to the workingman and dealt with workers' compensation laws and their bearing on
